

FIVE MAJOR FUNDS

Introduction

The purpose of this memorandum is to provide a brief description of five reserve or trust funds in the state treasury. South Dakota's treasury contains over 300 separate funds with assets of more than eleven billion dollars. The one underlying reason for creating a separate fund in the state treasury is to segregate money. Beyond that, there are many reasons to segregate money and to provide for a separate accounting.

This issue memorandum will not address all funds in the state treasury, but rather focus on the Budget Reserve Fund, the Property Tax Reduction Fund, the Dakota Cement Trust Fund, the Education Enhancement Trust Fund and the Health Care Trust Fund. These five funds are of considerable interest to the Legislature and the citizens of South Dakota. Each of the funds was created statutorily by the Legislature or the people of South Dakota by amending the Constitution.

In some cases, laws governing these funds have changed since their creation. While this issue memo does provide some history, its primary focus will be on the five funds as they currently operate.

The Budget Reserve Fund

The Budget Reserve Fund (SDCL 4-7-31 and 4-7-32) was created by the 1991 Legislature at the urging of Governor Mickelson in order to provide the Governor and Legislature with a pool of money available to address revenue shortfalls resulting from unforeseen circumstances.

Money into the Budget Reserve Fund-

The act establishing the Budget Reserve Fund provided that the balance of the fund be set at a maximum of five percent of the previous year's general fund appropriation through the general appropriations bill (or to twenty million dollars in FY1992). Since that time, at the end of a fiscal year unobligated money in the state general fund has been transferred to the Budget Reserve Fund so that the maximum balance in the fund at the start of the next fiscal year is equal to five percent of the previous year's general fund appropriation.

As such, the Budget Reserve Fund came into being on July 1, 1992, with a balance of twenty million dollars. Since that time the Budget Reserve Fund has grown as the state general fund budget has grown. Statute provides that money into the budget reserve fund comes from one of two sources: (1) any general funds unspent at the end of the previous fiscal year (reversions); or (2) any total general fund revenues in excess of the amount budgeted. The 2002 Legislature increased the maximum amount of the budget reserve fund from five percent of the previous year's general fund appropriation through the general appropriations bill to ten percent of that amount. The balance of the budget reserve fund may fall below the ten percent maximum if there is not enough unobligated cash available for transfer to reach the ten percent maximum or if there are expenditures out of the budget reserve fund.

Money out of the Budget Reserve Fund-

The only way to spend from the budget reserve is by way of a special appropriation. This means that a two-thirds vote of each house of the Legislature is required to spend from Budget Reserve Fund.

History of expenditures/transfers out-

1. Following the death of Governor Mickelson, the 1993 Special Session transferred $3,978,204 from the Budget Reserve Fund to the general fund. This amount consisted of: $1,500,000 for a state airplane, $2,458,204 to cover the cost of the riot at the state penitentiary in Sioux Falls, and $20,000 to pay for the gubernatorial transition expenses.
2. The 1994 Legislature transferred $3,072,303 from the Budget Reserve Fund to the general fund. This amount consisted of: $1,451,303 to pay for the state's costs associated with flooding in eastern South Dakota in the spring of 1993; $1,021,000 to pay for the state's share of the costs of fighting the Galena fire in 1988; and $600,000 to cover remaining costs associated with the prison riot.

3. The second special session of the 1994 Legislature addressed the revenue shortfall brought about by the shutdown of the video lottery. The Legislature allowed the transfer of $1,255,442 per week from the Budget Reserve Fund to the general fund for the duration of the video lottery shutdown. The shutdown lasted fourteen weeks and a total of $17,576,188 was transferred from the Budget Reserve Fund to the general fund.
4. The 1996 Legislature transferred $1,287,713 from the Budget Reserve Fund to the general fund to cover the state's costs associated with flooding in eastern South Dakota in the spring of 1995.
5. The 2002 Legislature transferred $6,641,700 from the Budget Reserve Fund to the general fund to address revenue shortfalls in the FY2002 budget.
6. The 2012 Legislature transferred $14,008,369 for costs related to disasters in South Dakota and $6,146,646 for costs related to the suppression of mountain pine beetles in South Dakota.

See Appendix A for Budget Reserve Fund condition statement history.

Restrictions on expenditures out of the Budget Reserve Fund- Statute clearly specifies that expenditures out of the Budget Reserve Fund may be made only to address such unforeseen expenditure obligations or revenue shortfalls as may constitute an emergency as defined by the South Dakota Constitution.

Maximum amount in the Budget Reserve Fund- The Budget Reserve Fund is capped at ten percent of the previous year's general fund appropriation through the General Appropriations Act. For FY2014, the maximum amount is $123.2 million.

The Property Tax Reduction Fund

The Property Tax Reduction Fund was created by the 1995 Legislature. The Property Tax Reduction Fund was created to serve as a source of revenue to the state general fund for the purpose of providing property tax relief through state aid to education.

Money into the Property Tax Reduction Fund- Money flows into the Property Tax Reduction Fund from one of four sources. The first source is the state's share of net machine income from video lottery ($91.2 million in FY2013). The second source is 60 percent of the taxes collected on the gross receipts of certain telecommunications services ($8.1 million in FY2013). The third source of revenue is thirty-three percent of all revenue deposited in the tobacco prevention and reduction trust fund ($8.0 million in FY2013). The final source is any money in the general fund at the end of the fiscal year after the transfer to the Budget Reserve Fund is made. As such the last source is made up of general funds which have been appropriated but not spent (reversions) and revenues in excess of the adopted revenue estimate.

In addition to the four continuing sources of money flowing into the Property Tax Reduction Fund, the 2006 Legislature passed SB 153 which transferred $38,000,000 from the Railroad Trust Fund to the Property Tax Reduction fund as a result of the sale of the Core line to Burlington Northern Santa Fe in 2005.

Money out of the Property Tax Reduction Fund- There are no special restrictions on spending money out of the Property Tax Reduction Fund. The Commissioner of Finance and Management may transfer money in the fund to the general fund in order to provide property tax relief through state aid to education. Money in the Property Tax Reduction Fund may also be transferred to the general fund through an act of the Legislature. Given these rules, money moves out of the Property Tax Reduction Fund into the general fund with such ease that the Property Tax Reduction Fund may be considered part of the general fund.

History of expenditures/transfers out- Since the creation of the Property Tax Reduction Fund, annual transfers have been made to the general fund for the purpose of providing part of the funding needed to meet the state's obligation for state aid to education. In addition, the Legislature or the Commissioner of the Bureau of Finance and Management has transferred money out of the Property Tax Reduction Fund to the general fund to balance the budget. The amounts are as follows: $6,641,700 in FY2002; $10,474,011 in FY2003; $15,974,511 in FY2004; $24,578,419 in FY2005; $35,387,630 in FY2006; $4,913,211 in FY2007; and $25,600,000 in FY2008.

See Appendix A for Property Tax Reduction Fund condition statement history.

Restrictions on expenditures out of the Property Tax Reduction Fund- There are no restrictions on the expenditure of money out of the Property Tax Reduction Fund.

Maximum amount in the Property Tax Reduction Fund- The Property Tax Reduction Fund is capped at fifteen percent of the previous year's general fund appropriations through the General Appropriations Act. For FY2014, the maximum amount is $184.9 million.

Dakota Cement Trust Fund

Late in 2000, Governor Janklow negotiated the sale of the South Dakota Cement Plant. In December 2000 the Legislature met in special session to consider legislation providing the use of the funds from the sale. The Legislature placed two measures on the ballot to amend the South Dakota Constitution. The first measure created a trust fund and provided for an annual transfer of twelve million dollars from the Dakota Cement Trust Fund to the general fund. The second measure provided that except for the annual twelve million dollar transfer, the original principal of the Dakota Cement Trust Fund forever remain inviolate. However, when the fund balance was sufficient, the Legislature had the option to distribute an amount for the support of education equal to five percent of the value of the Dakota Cement Trust Fund less twelve million dollars.

The 2012 Legislature placed a measure on the ballot to amend Article XIII, sections 20 and 21, of the South Dakota Constitution, to adjust the calculation by which the annual payment is made. The general electors approved the ballot measure which changed the annual payout from $12 million plus the potential additional five percent for education to four percent of the lesser of the sixteen quarter average market value of the trust fund, or the market value of the trust fund at the end of that calendar year for the support of education in South Dakota. The sixteen quarter market value is determined by adding the market value of the trust fund at the end of the sixteen most recent calendar quarters as of December 31st, and dividing the number by sixteen.

Money into the Dakota Cement Trust Fund- On April 1, 2001, $238,000,000 from the sale of the cement plant was deposited into the Dakota Cement Trust Fund.

Money out of the Dakota Cement Trust Fund- As previously mentioned, the South Dakota Constitution originally provided for an annual transfer of twelve million dollars from the Dakota Cement Trust Fund to the general fund. After that, the Legislature had the option to spend an amount equal to five percent of the Dakota Cement Trust Fund minus twelve million dollars for education. However, in 2012 the general electors amended the calculation to four percent of the lesser of the sixteen quarter average market value or the market value of the trust fund at the end of that calendar year for the support of education in South Dakota.

History of expenditures/transfers out- Beginning in FY2001 through FY2012 annual transfers of $12 million were made to the general fund. In addition, a total of $5,120,177 during fiscal years FY2005 through FY2009 was transferred to the general fund for education per the five percent calculation. Due to the calculation change in 2012, the deposit into the general fund for FY2013 was $9,356,955. For additional detail see Appendix B.

Restrictions on expenditures out of the Dakota Cement Trust Fund- Prior to 2012, the South Dakota Constitution specified that when the balance of the Dakota Cement Trust Fund was sufficient, the Legislature may distribute money from the fund “for the support of education, but not for the replacement of state aid to general education or special education....” However, in 2012, the option for the Legislature to appropriate additional money was removed and the section was amended to say “for the support of education in South Dakota.”

It is important to note that other trust funds allow for the Legislature by a super majority to invade the principal of the trust fund or spend the money in the trust fund for purposes other than those provided for in the Constitution or statute. This is not the case with the Dakota Cement Trust Fund. The South Dakota Constitution has the Dakota Cement Trust Fund locked up tight.

Education Enhancement Trust Fund

The voters, by amending the South Dakota Constitution, created the Education Enhancement Trust Fund. This measure was placed on the ballot by the 2001 Legislature. The constitutional amendment provided that all money in the state treasury received as a result of the agreement between the state and major United States tobacco product producers (commonly referred to as the tobacco lawsuit) be deposited into the Education Enhancement Trust Fund. In addition, the constitutional amendment provided that nearly $5.7 million in the Youth-at-Risk Trust Fund be transferred to the Education Enhancement Trust Fund. Furthermore, the 2013 Legislature passed SB 233 and SB 237 which appropriated $1.5 million for a critical teaching needs scholarship program and $1.5 million for a need-based grant program.

The constitution provides that the Education Enhancement Trust Fund be used for education enhancement programs--provided that the principal of the fund may never be invaded nor may money in the fund be used for purposes other than education enhancement programs unless appropriated by a three-fourths vote of each house of the Legislature.

Money into the Education Enhancement Trust Fund- Money into the Education Enhancement Trust Fund has come from six different sources: (1) revenues received under the provisions of the tobacco lawsuit between the first payment received in March of 2000 and April 2002; (2) money in the Youth-at-Risk Trust Fund; (3) earnings on the principal; (4) revenue received from the assignment of tobacco payments (tobacco securitization); (5) earnings on the money from the securitization; and (6) general fund appropriations.

Securitization- In late summer and early fall of 2002, South Dakota sold the state’s future revenues from the tobacco Master Settlement Agreement (TSRs) to the South Dakota Educational Enhancement Funding Corporation (SDEEFC). The SDEEFC then sold $278,045,000 of Tobacco Settlement Asset-Backed Bonds, secured and payable by 100% of the TSRs. After expenses of issuing the 2002 Bonds and maintaining a sufficient reserve, the SDEEFC transferred the purchase price of $243.6 million to the state treasury, which was placed into the Education Enhancement Trust Fund. Additionally, the State retained the right to receive all of the TSRs after full repayment of the bonds and dedicated them to the Trust Fund. The 2002 Bonds were refunded in fiscal year 2013 and $169,645,000 of new bonds were issued. Due to the lower interest rates on the 2013 Bonds and a modification to their repayment structure, it is projected that the refunding will provide additional TSRs to the trust fund and will increase the balance of the trust fund significantly by 2032.

Money out of the Education Enhancement Trust Fund- Article XII, section 6 of the Constitution and SDCL 4-5-29.2 provides that an amount equal to four percent of the market value of the assets of the Education Enhancement Trust Fund may be transferred to the general fund, so long as the principal of the fund is not invaded. Beginning in fiscal year 2008, the market value shall be determined by adding the market value of the trust fund at the end of the sixteen most recent calendar quarters as of December 31st, and dividing the number by sixteen.

Money transferred from the Education Enhancement Trust Fund must be used for education enhancement programs. The Education Enhancement Trust Fund may not be used for purposes other than education enhancement nor may the principal of the fund be invaded unless approved by a three-fourths vote of each house of the Legislature. However, the earnings may be transferred through an act of the Legislature by a simple majority.

History of expenditures/transfers out- The 2002 Legislature appropriated $3,245,367 from the Education Enhancement Trust Fund to assist South Dakota's public school districts acquire and utilize technology. In addition, there have been annual distributions (with the exception of FY2010) totaling $146.4 million to the general fund in support of education programs. For details see Appendix B.

Restrictions on expenditures out of the Education Enhancement Trust Fund- As mentioned earlier, the Constitution allows for expenditures from the Education Enhancement Trust Fund to be used only for education enhancement programs. The Constitution leaves it to the Legislature to define education enhancement programs. Again, the only exception to the education enhancement restriction is the Constitution's allowance for expenditures from the Education Enhancement Trust Fund for purposes other than education enhancement, provided that the expenditure is approved by a three-fourths vote of each house of the Legislature.

Health Care Trust Fund

In 2000, the Legislature authorized the funding mechanism for the Intergovernmental Transfer (IGT) Fund. (See SDCL 28-6-28 to 28-6-36, inclusive.) This fund would later be named the Health Care Trust Fund.

History- South Dakota took advantage of a Medicaid loophole which allowed the state to assume, on paper, that the state's entire Medicaid nursing home population was served by the five facilities in the state that are run by local governments. Federal law allows states to reimburse nursing homes that are run by local units of government at the higher Medicaid rate. By written agreement with the state, the nursing homes remitted (minus a small handling fee of approximately $5,000 per year) to the state the difference between the higher Medicaid rate and the lower Medicaid rate. The federal portion of the remittance was credited to the IGT Fund. The funds used to "leverage" the federal moneys were credited back to their original funds. Many states took advantage of this Medicaid loophole, some for over a decade. Due to this trend, the federal government closed this windfall. Beginning on January 1, 2003, South Dakota was eligible to use the IGT mechanism for only the Medicaid nursing home populations that are owned or managed by local government.

Authorizing Implementation of the Health Care Trust Fund-

1. For FY 2001, the Special Committee on Appropriations amended the General Appropriations Act by appropriating $47,500,000 ($15,000,000 in other fund expenditure authority and $32,500,000 in federal fund expenditure authority) to the Department of Social Services on May 21, 2001.
2. For FY 2002, the Legislature appropriated $42,800,000 from all funds ($14,300,000 in other fund expenditure authority and $28,500,000 in federal fund expenditure authority) in the General Appropriations Act (HB 1233). On June 13, 2002, the Special Committee on Appropriations amended the General Appropriations Act by appropriating another $3,000,000 in other fund expenditure authority.
3. FY 2003, the Legislature appropriated $21,000,000 from all funds ($7,255,500 in other fund expenditure authority and $13,744,500 in federal fund expenditure authority) in the General Appropriations Act (SB 187). On June 25, 2003, the Special Committee on Appropriations amended the General Appropriations Act by appropriating another $3,000,000 in other fund expenditure authority and $1,500,000 in federal fund expenditure authority.

Expenditures from the IGT fund- During 2001 the Legislature passed SB 14 which authorized the expenditure of $1.6 million from the IGT Fund. Senate Bill 14 amended the FY 2001 appropriations bill and authorized any unspent funds to be carried over into FY2002. Six hundred thousand dollars was appropriated to the Department of Health--$100,000 for public access defibrillation equipment, and $500,000 for diabetes screening. Approximately $160,000 was used for diabetes screening in FY 2001; the rest of the money was utilized for anti-terrorism preparations. The remaining one million dollars was appropriated to the Department of Human Services for neuromuscular devices.

Constitutionally created fund- At the special election held on April 10, 2001, the people approved a constitutional amendment that, in part, created the Health Care Trust Fund. This new fund received the principal of the IGT fund minus the $1.6 million that was appropriated. According to Article XII, Section 5 of the Constitution, the Investment Council shall invest the principal amount in stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and other financial instruments. Beginning in FY2003, the State Treasurer shall make an annual distribution from the Health Care Trust Fund to the general fund. These monies are to be appropriated for health care related programs. The principal of the fund can only be appropriated by a three-fourths vote of the members-elect of each house of the Legislature. However, the constitution says: "The calculation of the distribution shall be defined by law and may promote growth of the fund and a steadily growing distribution amount.” (emphasis added)

Money out of the Health Care Trust Fund- Article XII, section 5 of the Constitution and SDCL 4-5-29.1 provide that an amount equal to four percent of the market value of the Health Care Trust Fund may be transferred to the general fund, so long as the principal of the fund is not invaded. Beginning in fiscal year 2008, the market value shall be determined by adding the market value of the trust fund at the end of the sixteen most recent calendar quarters as of December 31st, and dividing the number by sixteen.

Money transferred from the Health Care Trust fund must be used for health care related programs. The Health Care Trust Fund may not be used for other purposes nor may the principal of the fund be invaded unless approved by a three-fourths vote of each house of the Legislature. However, the earnings may be transferred through an act of the Legislature by a simple majority.

History of Expenditures- In FY2003, the Legislature passed SB 187 and distributed $2,590,638 from the Health Care Trust Fund to the general fund for the Divisions of Medical Services

($1,295,319) and Nursing Facilities ($1,295,319) in the Department of Social Services. In addition, there have been annual distributions (with the exception of FY2010) totaling $37.5 million to the general fund in support of health care programs. For details see Appendix B.

Summary

Over the past two decades, Governors and Legislatures have resisted the temptation to spend all monies available to them, but rather set aside sums of money when available for the public good. This discipline has resulted in a total balance of just over $965 million in the five funds at the end of FY2013.

Appendix A shows the financial condition of the budget reserve fund and the property tax reduction fund.

Appendix B describes a brief financial history of the three constitutional trust funds.

Appendix C outlines the relevant statutory and constitutional provisions.
